About the Company: OB10 operates the leading global business-to-business electronic invoicing network, used in more than 90 countries.

About the Network: The OB10 e-Invoicing network simplifies and streamlines invoice-to-pay processes between companies and their suppliers. By joining OB10, any organization can electronically receive invoices from their suppliers directly into their accounting systems, eliminating manual labor and improving cash management. The network eliminates the need for special hardware or software, seamlessly connecting billing and accounting platforms.

Differentiators: OB10's Any-to-Any Data Formattingsm capability enables members to send or receive invoices effortlessly between themselves without having to agree on formats, file specifications, or communication methods. OB10 also features unparalleled supplier enrollment support to increase adoption rates and supplier compliance.

Customers: Some of the largest and best known companies in North America and the world use the OB10 network. Examples include Mohawk Industries, Hewlett-Packard, General Motors, GlaxoSmithKline, Kellogg, Sara Lee, Cargill, and Greif.
